

I'm against new rules meant to keep consumers from copying digital programming. Start working for the public interest not the media and electronics interests.